DETAILED ACTION

1. The following Office action is based on the amino group-containing compound recited in Claim 1 being different from the thermoplastic elastomer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 3. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chino (US 2002/0022700).

Chino discloses a thermoplastic elastomer composition comprising a thermoplastic elastomer having a carbonyl-containing group and a nitrogen-containing heterocycle in a side chain thereof. ([0012]-[0020], [0024]-[0030], [0039]-[0040], [0051]-[0055], [0082]-[0084] and [120]-[122]) The composition can further contain aliphatic or aromatic hindered amine type compounds. ([0153])

4. Claims 6-18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Chino does not teach or fairly suggest the use of the specific amino groupcontaining compound as set forth in the instant claims.
